

Happy April! Last month, we turned our attention to the 2025 State of the State address. We will be hard at work to guarantee that Ohioans are supported and have the ability to thrive here in Ohio. House Democrats are committed to putting people first. When we put People First, we are putting Ohioans at the center of every decision. We are focusing on the issues that matter most: better pay, better healthcare, fairer taxes, safer communities, affordable housing, real opportunities, and a secure economic future.

April is National Minority Health Month, a time to focus on the health disparities in minority communities across the state and country. Latina and Black women are more likely to be diagnosed with breast cancer at a later stage than white women. In addition, infant mortality rates among Black Americans and Native groups are higher than other racial or ethnic groups in the United States. Improving healthcare in minority communities is one of the most important issues facing our state. Democrats will continue to support quality, equitable healthcare so that everyone, no matter their zip code, can thrive here in Ohio.

Please do not hesitate to contact my office with any questions, comments, or concerns.

Sincerely,

Seil sich Denson

April was full of exciting in-district engagements for Representative Denson. Earlier this month, he met with the Council on Aging of Southwestern Ohio to discuss updates on their services and innovative partnerships with Ohio Medicaid. Recently, Rep. Denson attended the C.H.I.C.O Memorial Scholarship Gala, where he presented commendations to this year's scholarship recipients. Founded in 2009, the CHICO Memorial Scholarship Fund empowers families with resources and scholarships to support exceptional students in completing their higher education. The fund aims to prioritize college education for all families while equipping scholars with the tools needed to excel in their studies and become future leaders. Lastly, this month Rep. Denson attended the official launch of WealthWave, a local business dedicated to empowering individuals of all ages and backgrounds through financial literacy. Rep. Denson also provided a commendation to its founder, Tiffaney Hardy, for her commitment to educating families on budgeting, savings, and achieving financial wellness.
